Motivation Letter

As Warren Buffett says, “Surround yourself with people that push you to do better”. That is why I joined the European Chamber to be impelled by the great members. However, I would like to do more. I want to help to strengthen the voice of European business in Southern China and provide members with the knowledge and resources they need to operate more efficiently. As we are stronger in numbers, I want to bring attention to the Chamber’s services to more international companies that would benefit from our support.

Biography

My name is Naren Pillai and I am an Italian Citizen. I was born in India, and I grew up in Middle East & Europe. I completed my bachelor’s degree in Dubai and my master’s degree in Paris. I moved to Shanghai, China in 2013 to gain working experience in China market. Since the middle of 2020 I moved to South China as the Regional Director for ADEN and to make the company a leading integrated facility management solutions provider in the market using smart technology and automation.
